★ EXHIBITION & EVENT MANAGEMENT COMPANY OF THE YEAR, DISCOVERY EVENTS LTD

Our flagship deliverable is offering a big agency global experience from a bespoke, best-in-class, bright, brilliant and highly personable team where time, effort and relationship still counts for everything, over bottom line.

We offer:

- Discovery Events designs, constructs and manages creative and attractive integrated communication platforms.
- Design and execution of any event is one the key services and strengths of Discovery Events, from conception to completion.
- Discovery Events can provide the full spectrum of add-ons to create a successful event. This includes giveaways, on-stand attractions and catering/hospitality – from amazing food and live music.
- PR & Marketing: Discovery PR, a sister division of Discovery Events is committed to developing open and collaborative relationships and aim to be the long-term PR partner of choice.

As well as designing and creating inspirational exhibit stand spaces. Other award-winning elements that Discovery offers are that clients benefit from our extensive global experience of delivering high-class exhibitions and events across numerous market and industry sectors from veterinary, engineering and automation through to pharmaceutical life sciences.

Relationships are key to the way Discovery Events works. We are valued as a flexible extension of a client's team. We tackle any task at any time to any deadline, delivering a 24/7 service across global timelines.

We extend value by offering multilingual, strategic marketing communications and public relations services for clients to underpin positioning and promotion objectives.

With a select team of professionals, we ensure excellent and efficient delivery, matched with personal customer care with a work philosophy based on quality, creativity, proactivity and professionalism.

The differentiator is our ability to respond rapidly and flexibly to any project based on a more agile and nimble approach as a smaller, highly experienced but equally highly personable and approachable team. We are always prepared to go that extra mile.

We work with all sizes of client, from small one off projects to retainers with large, global companies essentially plugging any gaps they may have in their marcomms and event management mix, making us a real friend with benefits, not averse to rolling up our sleeves to tackle any task or to handle any project at any level. And having a flat structure to our small agency of highly driven and committed team, clients benefit from the most experienced people close to every account, a small team sharing ideas and committed to handling every aspect of a client project, delivering the best quality outcomes for our clients.
